COMMENT ON THE SITUATION.
While the French and Germans are at grips about Verdun, London continues to hear rumors of peace. The peace talk has once more been resumed even in Washington, D. C. The Germans northwest of Verdun evidently are holding in leash their infantry for fresh attacks in their endeavors to capture hill No. 304 and Le Mort Homme, key points which are tenaciously barring their way to the fortress. The infantry has remained idle in their trenches while the big guns are showering shells on the region embracing the triangle formed by hill No. 304, Esnes and Le Mort Homme. Not even a sally by the Germans in this district is reported in the latest French official communication. Comparative quiet prevails to the east of the Meuse around Douaumont and Vaux, where there recently has been such vicious fighting. No infantry attacks have been made by either side and the activity of the artillery has been less marked than on previous days. In the Russian theater there have been artillery duels and infantry attacks at various places. On the Austro-Italian front the Italians have taken from the Austrians the heights north of Rioponale and strong lines of trenches and redoubts on the southern slopes of Monte Pari and Cinnadoro, and on the rocks of Monte Sperone, the Austrians suffering heavy casualties. Elsewhere along the line the artillery duels continue.

TIMES, April 12.—Chicago got a touch of summer in a hurry today, when the temperature jumped up 18 deg. in an hour, the maximum being deg. in an hour, the maximum being 77 deg., rising from 44 deg. last night. The heat wave was felt over all the Middle West and is the advance agent of heavy storms. Eastern States are also much warmer. Haif an inch of snow fell on the Southern Canadian boundary and there were scattering rains in the East Central and West Central and mountain States.

Peace Negotiations.

of an indirect character have been under way here for several weeks. In general, the terms offered are similar to those indicated in the recent speeches of Premier Asquith and Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg.

Nothing has yet been said which would form the basis of an immediate peace, though there are plenty of evidences that the warring nations are headed in the general direction of an agreement on terms.

Representatives of both groups of allies have expressed their government's views privately, with the knowledge that the information would be carried to their enemies and draw forth significant comment. This sounding process has given rise to the belief that Germany will have to yield much more than heretofore if she hopes to realize the end of the war.

The allies, on the other hand, are nighting for an intangible thing—the crushing of Prussian militarism. There is no measure by which it can be judged just when that object has been accomplished. There is a hope, therefore, that Great Britain, France and Russia may be persuded that it has already been accomplished if Germany actually makes overtures in the near cast will never be permittarism would be considered complete "when the German people were made to realize that it was wrong and profilear."

It is stated that the crushing of militarism would be considered complete "when the German people were made to realize that it was wrong and profilear enter and the considered complete "when the German people were made to realize that it was wrong and profilear in the profile of the color, the continued of the color, the color of the sake of this intangible victory the allies are not ready to yield all the matterial gains to Germany. Particularly, it is declared that German succerainty in the near east will never be permitted. The color for the color of the sake of this intangible victory the allies are not ready to yield all the matterial gains to Germany. Particularly, it is declared that German succerai

It is sow believed that signs of this have already appeared. But for the sake of this intangible victory the allies are not ready to yield all the material gains to Germany. Particularly, it is declared that German suscerainty in the near east will never be permitted. The chief purpose of Germany: war, it is said, was to obtain a free hand in the near east and a buffer state between Russia and Germany.

If, therefore, Germany accomplished the ends she would proclaim it a victory and quickly reconvert her people to militarism.

It is consequently held to be impossible to grant Germany anything that could be interpreted to the German people as a final victory.

There is no objection on the side of the allies, it is declared, to making the end a draw, so far as material considerations are concerned.

This would mean the restoration of the status quo in Europea, with some an according to the captain, the wreak, painted stray, with white dray with white dray, with white dray, with white dray with white he hull clean and in apparent with the hull clean and in apparent with about and on a j end a draw, so far as material considerations are concerned.

This would mean the restoration of the status quo in Europe, with some adjustments as to boundaries that would tend to make the nations more homogenous, and a general redistribution of colonies along the same lines.

The acclaim with which Premier Asquith's "peace hints" were greeted in Germany is considered here as a sure indication that Germany will soon abandon many of her claims. When the downward revision begins, friends of allies say, it will be necessary only to wait until they reach a point where they might reasonably form the basis of open negotiations. When negotiations actually begin there is little doubt, it is believed here, that the war will be over.

Consequently the investigation had to be extended to all actions undertaken on the day in question—March 24, a long, black craft, without a flag, having a gray funnel, small, gray forward works and two high masta, was encountered about the middle of the English Channel by a German submarine. The commander reached the definite conclusion that it was a war vessel, and indeed a mine layer of the English Channel by a German submarine about in the stern, sloping downward and backward like a war vessel; third, she was painted like a war vessel; fourth, the high speed developed—about eighteen knots; fifth, the circumstance that the vessel and unvarying observations of German submarines is about the course of commercial vessels, but kept in the first of the channel, on a course self tourth, the afternoon, Middle European time, one and one half seal at 1.55 in the afternoon, Middle European time, one and one half seal at 1.55 in the afternoon, Middle European time, one and one half seal at 1.55 in the afternoon, Middle European time, one and one half seal at 1.55 in the afternoon, Middle European time, one and one half seal at 1.55 in the afternoon, Middle European time, one and one half seal at 1.55 in the afternoon, Middle European time, one and one half seal at 1.55 in the afternoon, Middle European time, one and one half seal at 1.55 in the afternoon, Middle European time, one and one half seal at 1.55 in the afternoon, Middle European time, one and one half seal at 1.55 in the afternoon the bridge.

The picture of the steamer Sussex, two copies of which also are enclosed, is reproduced photographically from the English paper. The Daily Graphic, of the 27th ultime.

"A comparison of the sketch and it the picture shows that the craft attacked is not identical with the Sussex; the difference in the position of the stack and shape of the stern is particularly striking.

"No other attack whatever by German submarines at the time in question for the Sussex upon the route between Folkestone and Dieppe occurred. The German government must therefore assume that the injury to the Sussex is attributable to another cause than an attack by a German submarine.

"For an explanation of the case the fact may perhaps be serviceable that no less than twenty-six English mines were exploded by shots by German wall forces in the channel on the first and second of April alone. The entire sea in that vicinity is, in fact, endangered by floating mines and by torpedoes that have not sunk. Off the English coast it is further endangered in an increasing degree through German mines which have been laid against enemy naval forces.

Officials said the statements in the German note would be very carefully examined and compared with the evidence already before the State Department in preparing the case of the United States. In view of the admission that a German submarine was in the vicinity when the Sussex was attacked, and the array of evidence pointing to the conclusion that she was torpedoed, little doubt is felt here as to responsibility for that disaster, despite the explanation that a sketch made by the submarine commander of a ship he torpedoed did not correspond with the description of the Sussex.

The Times Special Imperial Valley Excursion

HIS is the third and will be the last Times Excursion to this wonderful Southland this season. Imperial Valley, the Dixieland of California, producing grain, corn, meat, milk and honey; the land of romance which a decade ago was sparsely inhabited, but now is producing millions of dollars for its hundreds of residents in its thriving cities and on its ranches; health, wealth and an abundance of the good things of this earth; happy and contented people. Come to see this favored section of California now! But read what E. G. Judah, president of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, has to say of a Times Excursion:

"The average business man thinks he sees a country when he goes through it in a Pullman. One trip with an excursion such as those run by The Times will convince him to the contrary. The Times excursionists go to the heart of a country and actually get off the train instead of merely looking out the windows. On the San Joaquin trip they were driven by automobile over the finest districts, learned from observation and came into personal contact with the leading men of each community. When they returned and told what they had seen, it meant something. I learned much from the San Joaquin excursion and I expect to learn fully as much from the trip into Imperial Valley."

To Leave Tomorrow Night

The price of ticket, which includes every necessary expense of travel-round-trip transportation, sleeping berth (3 nights,) all meals on the tour, old-fashioned barbecue, auto rides, sightseeing side trips, entertainments and a big, novel, wideopen, interesting itinerary, is,

SUES FOR A DIVORCE FROM HARRY K. THAW

Thaw of St. Louis today filed suit for ivorce from Harry K. Thaw, asking maintenance and the custody of their 12-year-old daughter, Lady Gwen dolyn Clemmens. The petition state the couple were married in Buffalo October 6, 1902, that they lived torefusal to establish a home for her refusal to establish a home for her and recognize her as his wife, she left him and came to St. Louis, where her child was born a month later. It is charged that Thaw has the child and refuses to tell the plaintiff its whereabouts. Her attorney said that Thaw married her under the name of Harry Kendall Thaw Clemmens. He refused to tell where she could be found, but stated she was supporting herself by her own efforts.

Today's Beauty Help

You can keep your hair at its very best by washing it with this simple, inexpensive shampoo, which cleanses the hair and scale thoroughly of all the dandruf and dirt and leaves a clean, wholesome feeling; Just use a teaspoonful of canthrox dissolved in a cup of hot water, afterwards rinsing thoroughly with clean water. One finds that the hair dries quickly and evenly, is unstreaked, bright, soft and fluffy, so fluffy, in fact, that it looks more abundant than it is, and so soft that arranging it becomes a pleasure. All scalp irritation will disappear and the hair will be brighter than ever before.

Charles Goltra Passes Away at His Altadena Home.

Long Prominent in Banking of the Middle West.

Knights Templars to Conduct Obsequies Tomorrow.

Charles Goltra, retired bankcles, died yesterday at his home an illness of long duration. The funeral services will occur at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, under the auspices of the Knights Templars of Pasadena.

Ill., October 20, 1845. He resided there until 1896, and was educated in the schools of that city and in Wabash College. He then engaged in the mer cantile business for two years, and then moved to Crawfordsville, Ind., where he was in mercantile lines for ten years. In 1881, Mr. Goltra became connected with the Citizens' National Bank of Crawfordsville, and for rears was its cashier. He was married in 1870, to Miss oneers of Crawfordsville, and also one daughter were born to this un-ion—William W. Goltra and Mary Golra, now the wife of Luke Wood of tra, now the wife of Luke Wood of Pasadena.

Mr. Goltra was made a Mason in Montgomery Lodge, at Crawfordsville. In 1879. In the same year he was made a Royal Arch Mason. He was created a Knight Templar soon thereafter, and in 1885 became Eminent Commander. In the following year he was elected Grand Warder of the Grand Commandery, and by a regular advancement attained the high rank of Right Eminent Grand Commander in 1904. For twenty-seven years he was treasurer of the four Masonic bodies of Crawfordsville.

For many years he was one of the most prominent banking figures in the Middle West, and upon his retirement he came to California, about two and a half years ago. For the past year and a half his home was in Altadena.

DANDRUFF GOES! HAIRGETS THICK, WAVY, BEAUTIFUL

Save your hair! Double its beauty in a few moments.

Try this!

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few week's use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable luster, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

parable luster, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowiton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhiliarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

missionary to China, was an interest-ing witness in the Union Oil Company ing witness in the Union Oil Company litigation before Judge Myers yesterday. It appeared that he had been given a power of attorney to act for Milton Stewart in the negotiations between the Union Oil and Mark Requa, with reference to giving an option on Union Oil stock. The witness stated he had talked with John Garrigues, one of the plaintiffs in the suit on trial, about the character of the on trial, about the character of the men believed to be back of Mr. Re-qua. It was his understanding that they were very wealthy and that one of the companies in the combine had properties worth millions and out-standing securities representing $60,-

OCCULT GUIDANCE

"No, he told me something about Theosophy; he said he was guided by supernatural agencies."

"You told him, didn't you, that you had asked for divine guidance in the matter of agreeing to the Requa option and that you had received assurance that it was the proper thing to do?"

"I told him I had prayed about the matter the night before, and that I was firmer than ever in my conviction that it was the proper thing to do," replied Mr. Blackstone. With reference to the Requa matter the wit-was firmer than ever in my conviction that it was the proper thing to do," replied Mr. Blackstone. With reference to the Requa matter the witness said that at first he was opposed to it. The first proposition was to buy the controlling stock of the stockholders of the Union Provident. It was then extended to all stockholders, provided they would take as payment the stock of a new corporation.

"We were opposed to this because we did not know about the character of the new corporation. The proposition was then made to buy out the whole company at $55 a share. I was in favor of that proposition, provided the majority of the stockholders agreed to it. When this condition was submitted to Mr. Requa he said it would be impossible to gain the consent of a majority of the stockholders.

"I talked to Mr. Garrigues about the matter and he seemed displeased. He was opposed to giving an option. He agreed with me that the matter should be submitted to the stockholders."

SIGN AGREEMENT.

Mr. Blackstone denied that Mr. Garrigues had been promised that the Requa agreement would not be entered into.

"No promises were made to him: they were made to me," he said. "We signed it that night after Mr. Requatoid us it would be impossible to gain the consent of a majority of the stockholders. It was signed after I had proposed several conditions. One was that there should be a forfeiture to the company in the event that the option was not exercised. I insisted on the complete protection of all the stockholders. I thought then and I think so now that the contract provided such protection."

days ago while on duty, and death occurred from heart trouble.

The funeral will take place at the residence of Harry Ellis Dean, No. 1628 Crenshaw boulevard, at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Capt. Chappelear was widely known among the attorneys and court attaches. Twenty-five years ago he was a bailiff in the county court and for years wift an attache of the District Attorney's office, under Capt. J. D. Fredericks. He was born in Zanesville, O., February 1, 1841, and later went to Illinois, where he enlisted in the Seventeenth Illinois Cavairy and served through the Civil War as a first lieutenant, under Gen. Beveridge. At the close of the war Gen. Beveridge became Governor of Illinois and appointed Capt. Chappelear on his official staff.

Forty years ago capt. Chappelear married Clara Stewart, who survives, and thirty years ago came to Los Angeles county, locating at Santa Monica, where he engaged in the reality business. In 1891 he was appointed to an omicial position in the State prison at San Quentin by Gov. Markham, where he served under the administrations of Govs. Budd and Gage.

Besides the widow, three children and four sisters are left. The children are Mrs. Harry Ellis Dean, Clarence E. Chappelear and Capt. Louig Chappelear of the United States Coast, Artillery. The sisters are Matilda C, Holmes, Mrs. Levi A. Ross of Los Angeles, Mrs. Julia C. Hall and Mrš. Harvey J. Smith of Sedalia, Mo., and Mrs. Len C. Glesner of Findlay, Q.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"I had a case of skin trouble that was pretty bad. It came out in pimples and sort of blotches and would itch and burn and cause me to awake in the night. The itching and burning were so severe that I irritated the affected parts by scratching. They were principally on my face and were very annoying.

"After so many speaking favorably of Cuticura Soap and Ointment I decided to try them. I noticed great relief after having used a quarter of a box of Cuticura Ointment together with the Soap and in nearly six months I was healed." (Signed) Leander S. Corey, 200 Lafayette Bivd., Detroit,

The confession of Engell several days ago not only cleared up the mystery, but also exonerated Philip Kuntx, against whom the police had one of the strongest cases of circumstantial evidence ever produced in the city.

POINTS TO GUILT.

When the body of Doehling was found at the corner of Budlong avenue and Forty-eight street early last Priday morning two hats were picked up, that of the dead man and another, declared by Kuntx to belong to the assailant, but fitting him perfectly and even matching his suit. His cake was found to contain a dent suggesting that it was this weapon that had inflicted the wound on Doehling's head. The unsatisfactory statements of the arrested man also added to the belief that he was guility of the crime.

TELLIS FULL STORY.

Engell detailed his experience, stating that Doehling had made an improper approach to him on the night of the occurrence, while the two were riding on the same car. The defendant declared that he had ordered Doehling away from him and had been cursed and berated. A few moments later Kunty joined Doehling, and the two talked about him, and the two talked about him and the two talked about him and the two talk Observation Shows Big Amount of Unproductive Time.

Could do Practically Double the Present Amount.

Board of Public Works yesterday covering observations of the street-cleaning methods of the city for several months.

The main points brought out by the report are that when the first observation of the situation was made by the efficiency department it was found that the total unproductive time of the street-sweeping force, including both unavoidable and partly-avoidable lost time, amounted to 32.7 per cent. Then the men were informed that their work was being checked with a view to raising their efficiency, and a second observation showed that the unproductive time was reduced from 32.7 per cent. to 6.5 per cent., a difference of 26.2 per cent. This is equivalent to 2.1 hours for each sweeper each day, or 82.4 working days for the force of 314 sweepers each twenty-four hours.

For one year of 312 working days this difference in unproductive time for the entire force aggregates 25,709 working days, the cost of which at $2.50 a day amounts to $44,275 a year. Furthermore, the report says, it was found in a third series of observations that during the time devoted to productive labor a sweeper could, by changing his methods, do practically double the amount of work actually performed in the first series of observations.

The report says further:

ATLANTA, CA

AN ACCURATE DESCRIPTION

When your arm or your leg feels "all knotted" with rheumatism, when you feel as though your muscles were "tied up with a rope," you are really describing your pains accurately. Rheumatism is a condition of the body when acids and other deposits of impurities are actually "tieing up" the strands of muscles in your body, or strangling the nerves and thus producing the awful shooting pains of sciatica, lumbago, etc. Medical authorities agree that these acid deposits are carried and deposited by the blood in the various parts of the body. It stands to reason, therefore, that local applications such as rubbing with so-called remedies can't do any permanent good. At best they can relieve the pain a little and only for a little while. The only way to effect a real cure is to attack the real cause—the blood. It is cleansed from the troublesome deposits by S. S. S., the reliable blood purifier that is now easing the pains and healing the ills of the third generation. S. S. S. "goes after rate; pursuing the poison into every vein and artery, into every nook and corner of the body, and chasing the troublesome out of the system. The blood thus cleansed, carries off the other injurious deposits and "filters" them out of the body kidneys. S. S. S. is not a dreg. It is a purely vegetable bit you can get S. S. is not a dreg. THE NIMBLE CENT.

The trade proponents are still harping apon the purchase value of a cent under free trade advantages, but they omit to explain that in countries where the cent will be a nickel's worth it is very hard to earn the cent. Any man would prefer to pay 10 cents for a loaf if he can earn a quarter to pay it with. And a protective policy achieves just that.

EXPEDITION EXTRAORDINARY. Vashington continues to desire the of Villa, but does not want Gen. ng to get too far into Mexico. One inded of the silly rhyme of the long go which ran:

But don't go near the water."

The town of Coram, which is near ig, is in need of candidates. When ig, is in need of candidates. When igulation of seventeen went to vote ction day, only two of the number willing to run for the office of e. Coram should hold its elections three days later than its neighbor. NTERING THE SCHEME. One of the surest ways to success in line of endeavor is for a man to any line of endeavor is for a man to identify himself with his work. So many people make the mistake of standing in one spot and trying to lassoo the world, as it were, around them, when the thing to do is to move along the side of the thing you want and stay right there until you get it. You cannot capture success by them to the same treatment.

BABES AND VENDORS.

The women street vendors of Los An-ales are taking to bables. You will find babe in arms on almost every corner downtown district where a woman in the downtown district where a woman has chewing gum, newspapers or flowers for sale. It is probable some of these babies started out to earn an honest living and others went to keep their mothers company because it was dull for them at home, especially at meal time. Not all of hese babies, however, have honorable intentions. Eaveral of them account the second and the second a tentions. Several of them spend their time downtown in order to strike a pic-turesque attitude and to excite pathos and

I Some months ago the naked truth visited Los Angeles in a picture play called "The Hypocrites." The drams of the screen is now showing here in a rethe screen is now showing here in a re-turn engagement, which is a fresh proof that "Truth crushed to earth will rise again," as this play has been in New York since it left here. Needless to say the lady returns as fully revealed as before By the way, it is always interesting to see the same picture twice with a few months in between, because it makes one realize what rapid strides photography is taking. Pictures that were wonderful two years ago are almost worthless today because of WINDOW-SMASHING. Window-smashing.

It appears that the police are going to arrest people who drive their automobiles through plate glass windows of downtown stores. It is to be hoped that they are not exceeding their authority and that their conduct will not be held unconstitutional. Just to make sure of their premises it might be well to have the City Council pass an ordinance treating specifically with such emergencies. We are assuming, of course, that an automobile suspended between a shop window and the sidewalk with a shower of glass falling about the head of the driver, constitutes an emergency and not contributory neg-

WILLIANG TO TRY.

It appears that a Los Angeles man has interested the government in his submarine propeller to the point that the Secretary of the Navy is willing to recommend that Congress bear one-half of the expense of a test of the machine. This part cost $375,000. If Abner Neff will come brough with half of that amount on an experiment he is no piker. If he makes good the test and it is a success, then he is a patriot and a wise man. If the plan is tried and fails he will be broke and people will question his judgment after a few experiments. Somebody has to believe in

WHERE ONLY MAN IS VILE." All nature is beautiful. Even in her blackest moods and her most desolate places there is sublimity. The desert, under burning sun; the wind-swept plains of the north, sheeted in ite; rock-sown mountain crags, sheathed in storm clouds; the limitiess waste of occash in a dead columnia. limitiess waste of ocean, in a dead calm—each of these has its grandeur. And not the least of the enchantment of these far spaces lies in the absence of man—and his

Here in our own Southern California nature has been richly prodigal in giving ug an almost infinite variety and beauty of scene. She has laid out for us marvelous vistas of mountains and valley, of desert and ocean. And we—what have we done to these unrivalled gifts of Nature's hand?

On the exquisite contours of sky-lines, dihouetted against the very heavens, gigantic letters spelling out the of some haberdasher or brand of beer. Upon the living green of gently swelling hills rise monstrosities of bill-boards setting forth the virtues of "Favorite Cigarettes," or "the intest" vaudeville show. Sprawled over the mountain breasts of some eastern manufacturer.

Rocks and boulders perfected through thousands of years of patient growth are daubed over with blaring words—for the imagined profit of some enterprising advertiser, very likely on the other side of the continent. The giants of our forest, the ocean itself—nothing is sacred from the devastation of this publicity-mad age.

And the peorle permit this to be! We, who abuse the billboard poster-pasters, who decry the abomination, go right on allowing the desecration. We even en-courage it by buying "Bluffem's Pills" and

But the turning of beauty into mere background for advertising signs is not our only offense against the beautiful world God meant us to possess. Strangest af all, we put down on the sands, in the face of the infinite sweep of the ocean, we cluster under our noblest forests, we huddle at the point where the mountain views are most perfect; every conceivable human contrivance for extracting money and providing "amusement features:" Look at our ocean front! We drown the eternal chant of the waves by every rancous noise invented by hopeless vulgarity; we taint its life-giving breezes with every vile odor produced by humanity; we shut out the grandest sight given to mundane even with an unity mediev of to mundane eyes with an ugly medley of filmsy constructions.

And it is not only for the sake of the dollars that we turn clean, sweet beauty into sordid ugliness. Visit our beaches any Monday morning, after a summer-like Sunday. Every get-at-able foot of clean sand has been turned into a garbage dump. Newspapers, greasy popcorn bags, orange peel and egg shells—all the refuse of careless, lazy, unthinking pleasure-seeking throngs is left to defile—not even the cleansing might of the ocean can remove

And the same thing is found in every park and grove. Our sylvan glens, our most inspiring outlooks, the fair lovellmost inspiring outlooks, the fair loveliness of our mountain canyons, are all marred and ravaged by the refuse and the rapacity of the unholy crowd which seek refreshment and leave behind pollution.

We, as Americans and as Californians, need a new education—one that shall teach us true values; that shall train us to respect the handwork of God; that shall make it impossible for us to insult Nature's charm by our greed for money or for pleasure. And we need a very prac-tical schooling, enforced by law and by public opinion, that shall render it a crime to display an advertisement or to lay down refuse where it will destroy beauty and affront the eye that seeks beauty. Until this end is attained and we cease to deuniverse and its creatures—the uplifting wonder of Nature's perfection—we can never claim to be a cultured nor even a

THE REVIVAL OF SHIPPING.

President Wilson's administration has had much strange luck. No matter what sleepless nights the war in Europe has brought to him and his councillors, it has saved economic conditions in America in spite of his foothardy legislation that noth-ing less than a general war among the mightlest rations could have mitigated. The Democratic low tariff had ruined many The Democratic low tariff had ruined many and was on the verge of ruining more of the important manufacturers in this coun-try when war laid a more effective em-bargo on importations than could ever have been established by legislation, and our factories are now prospering wonder-fully. Just after the administration had destroyed by fool laws the last remnant of a one-time glorious merchant marine, the war came and practically gave the shipping industry into our hands. Our seamen are making the most of it. When war was declared 6,000,000 tons of German slipping was removed from the seas. Since then 2,000,000 tons more have been destroyed. At the outbreak Great Britain requisitioned 1500 ships for transports; and to avoid requisition, more than 300 British ships were sold to neu-

The result has been a scarcity of ships, of which Agnes Laut, editor of the business world department of Current Opinion, says: "While the government has a ship bill pending to restore the American flag to the sea, the flag has suddenly unfuried itself over the sea, without government and as the result of the most treernment aid, as the result of the most tre-mendous shipping boom ever known in this or any other country."

this or any other country."

In the same article she points out that shipping, ship rates, shipbuilding, have soared to dizzy heights of prosperity undreamed heretofore by the trade. Men who owned dismantled old tubs have hauled them out of the mud, applied a dash of paint and retired millionaires. A year ago when one big American shipping firm received charter rates of $30,000 a month for each of its ships, it regarded itself as literally kicked into millions. Today that same firm is receiving $120,000 day that same firm is receiving $120,000 a month for the same ships.

Prices for ships have mounted to fabulous proportions. A ship that was offered for $400,000 a year ago and refused, has since sold for $1,310,000. Four years ago steamer burned to the water's edge on the New Jersey shore and was abandoned to the underwriters. Then $300,000 was spent putting her into seaworthy condition and she has since been sold for $850,000. ing $145,000 eighteen years ago and after-ward sold for $75,000, was recently auc-tioned and went for $301,107.

On this Coast oll-sailing vessels are being chartered for carrying wheat and barley and the charter rates are just five times as high as a year ago. Recently the Japanese government pur-chased a Robert Dollar vessel which cost in 1911, $250,000 and paid $1,300,000.

A number of cotton shippers in Texas paid $125,000 for a cotton freighter. On one trip to Argentina she earned $90,000 and on the return trip earned $72,000. One ship on a single trip to France with flour earned $130,000 and going to Spain for ore, she earned another $60,000. A year ago the rate for carrying coal to Para was $8 a ton; now it is $15 a ton.

The only thing that keeps America from being the dominant merchant marine power on the sea is lack of ships. They not last forever, and when it is over com-petition will be fierce as ever. Our ship-pers can't compete against the subsidized companies of Europe without aid from our government, and without that aid they will government, and without that aid they will be driven from the seas.

There is something ironical in the fact that this great shipping boom should come during the administration of President Wilson in that he and his fellow-Democrats actually destroyed by legislation what little chance our shippers had of competing with foreign companies. But it has come. The country is glad that it has come, We hope it may stay and grow, and that the American merchant marine may be restored to the place it had before may be restored to the place it had before the Alabama and other English-equipped country was engaged in civil war.

E As the premiers of the various British dominions visit England, the chief for an Empire vote in the conduct of in-ternational policy. The British dominions, like the suffragettes, declare that they stand ready and willing to lend their whole-hearted co-operation, in the pur-suance of empire policy, provided they are represented in the councils and are allowed to record their vote thereon.

And, like the suffragettes, those British dependencies show a certain disposition to insist upon their right. No taxation without representation. Like the women of England, Australia, Canada, South Africa, India, New Zealand and even the small outposts of the British Empire, are permitting their personal demands to re-main in absyance during the war, but directly peace is declared old Mother England will find herself confronted with demands for suffrage on all sides. Even the men of Britain are demanding universal manhood suffrage instead of the restricted householder, term-lodger vote which they now have, and there is small doubt that the British Empire is in for a wholesale reconstruction during the next

If the women, the voteless men, the over-seas dominions, and India all take to militancy to secure their demands, one does not envy the old lady her problems, should she not be in acquiescent mood. All the signs point to a federated British Empire in the near future—federation or England lies in India. For the Moslems cordially detest Russia, their hereditary enemy, whose designs upon Turkey have long aroused their ire. And the Indian has been taught by England herself to regard Russia as her greatest menace. Indian Russia as her greatest menace. Indian emotions were in chaotic conflict during the Dardanelles campaign. A trade and military alliance with Russia after the war, indeed any pro-Russian policy on the part of Great Britain, cannot fall to arouse the resentment of the Moslems in India, and it has been declared that only by promising that in the event of success Constantinople should never be a Russian stronghold, could Indian co-operation have been obtained in the war. obtained in the war.

If, therefore, after the war, England essays an out-and-out alliance of the al-lied powers including Russia, and India she is demanding and that voice in the federated councils of empire, internal governmental conflict is pretty well assured. Shikh M. H. Kedwal of Gadia, an influganda in which he demands that "Russi must be Anglicized rather than England must be Anglicized rather than England Russianized," and asserts that "nothing but a reformed Russia, purged of her avarice, will secure the permanent peace of the world, and make an alliance between Japan, France, Russia and England permanent, provided that Turkey is included in it." Otherwise he predicts that "what you are pleased to call Moslem fanaticism will never be satisfied." never be satisfied."

There is something humorous in back-ward India essaying to reform the Rus-sian Empire; but there will be nothing humorous in the struggles to come when England is confronted with the reconstruction of her own dominion.

A N OUTRAGEOUS TRICK.
For unblushing skullduggery the New York Legislature and Governor have outdone Hiram Johnson and his plunderbund. By the terms of a law rushed through the New York Legislature and hurriedly signed by the Governor no stockholder holding less than 5 per cent. of the stock of a corporation is entitled to examine the stock book on demand, and the holder of more than 5 per cent, must have been a stockholder of record for six months to gain that privilege.

The law also denies to newspapers and others interested in public service access to books which ought always to be open notwithstanding that under the Federal laws newspapers are compelled to disclose the hames of stock and bondholders, as well as the owners of mortgages upon their well as the owners of mortgages upon their property. The Wall Street Journal says:

"This measure, conceived in iniquity, born in secrecy, passed in ignorance, and signed by the Governor in callous indifference to anything but his own political fortunes, was not in the interest of 'big business,' but of the smallest kind of little business.

"It is a type of legislation of which the people of this State have had plenty of experience. In order to achieve a special and local end, and to do it constitutionally, a general measure is passed. What particular corporation conceived this method of covering up its tracks does not appear. But we do Wall street the justice of assuming that the reputable corporations doing their financing there would instantly repudiate any there would instantly repudiate any hand in the dirty business."

National Editorial Service. BURSTING DAMS AND LEVEES AND THE LAW.

> CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES. BY WALDO G. MORSE.

AMS and levees are bursting here and there throughout the country, the thousands who lose their homes or lives being left without reparation be cause all evidence of the negligence from which the destruction sprang has gone

The present law of negligence should be changed by statute. The owners of the dams should be made insurers as to all men, or, at the very least, they should pay for every failure, unless able conclusively to prove that carelessness in no way contributed to the catastrophe.

Under the law, builders and owners of dams draw the dividends and reap the profits, while the denisens of the valleys below suffer a hazard wholly without protection, advantage, or hope of reparation. The value of their property is lessened because of the risk, and that wholly without compensation.

cause of the risk, and that wholly wished compensation.

We are living under the law as framed for county mill dams in old England or New England, the Middle States or Virginia, with quiet little ponds above and spreading meadows below. Each dam was a neighborhood affair and the folk about were skilled in its simple construction and familiar with every timber, stone and strain. The mill was a center of community life and should its dams yield, only the loss of a few barns or head of cattle would result.

familiar with every timber, stone and strain. The mill was a center of community life and should its dams yield, only the loss of a few barns or head of cattle would result.

As between such neighbors, it was adjudged and the law held that the owner of the dam should pay for losses only when shown to have been careless—a reasonable rule, for all in the community knew and were competent to pass upon facts and questions concerning the dam and its sufficiency. Had they not all built it or seen it built or repaired, or heard the tale from their fathers?

But now all conditions are different. When a great dam is to be erected and a huge power created, hordes of imported engineers and laborers invade the neighborhood and with herculean effort fiing uptitanic ramparts to hold back lakes of water. Below are the homes of thousands of men, not one of whom knows or is competent to judge in any respect as to the sufficiency or safety of the masonry and concrete. When the dam has gone out, no one from the path of its devastation can prove just why the thing did not hold. The old law and the new life and conditions are out of joint, and only the Legislature can change the law.

The legislators of the States are strongly called upon to provide a proper rule of justice. Let the corporations which obtain the benefits be charged with the dangers cast upon others. The risk incurred they may insure, if they will, from surplus profits, thus adjusting the burden of hazard exactly where and as it belongs, and relieving, in so far as may be, those upon whom it is now thrown.

Levees reclaiming low lands are somewhat different. But far above the old highwater mark sweep the floods of bursting embankments, and here again those who derive no gain or advantage are penalized for the benefit of others.

New dams are to be erected, many under public authority, and new levees are to be rebuilt and enlarged. All of these enterprises require consideration of an insurance liability which ought to be assumed, and the physical conditions involved of water, long levees are much like a dam, and the water simply goes up. Twenty, forty or eighty feet up and over it will go, given the water and the length of confinement. The water may come any time, and if the government is to supply the confinement, then let the government insure all below the levees and above normal high water, and count the cost. Let all who build levees and dams become and be made insurers thereof.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

DOWN GRADE.

The road down hill is easy, your gait is brisk and breezy, companionship is gay; and as you trot along it, the dead-game sports who throng it will cheer you on your way. You ply the bowl and flagon, and jeer the water wagon, the hydrant and the pump, and, laughing at the sorrow which will arrive tomorrow, you hasten to the dump. Your gait grows ever swifter, with williewaught and snifter, four fingers at a throw; with decency you quarrel, and sneer at all things moral, and to the dump you go. Oh, faster yet and faster, you speed on to disaster, and stoeper is the slope; friend, stop and look and listen, while yet in sight there glisten the snowy robes of hope! Some turn around and scramble back through the rock and bramble, a weary, racking climb; but there are hands to aid them, though sore feet delayed them, they reach the top in time. But most of those who amble down hill don't try to scramble back to the healthful pump, back to the sane existence they're leaving in the distance, but keep on to the dump. Virtue Rewarded.

[Life:] The teacher had told the pupils the story of Washington and his little hatchet, and had then shown them an engraving which depicted two small boys standing in a repentant attitude, "explaining things to mother."

The title of the picture was "The Truthtellers," and the children were asked to write a composition thereon.

This was little Johnnie's effort:

"One day mother left me in the house all alone. Pretty soon Tommy Jones came along and said lets go awimming. My mother wont let me. Ah, come on. So I went. When mother came back she said what makes your hair so wet. I said mother i can not tell a lie I went swimming. And she said Johnnie I'm glad you took a bath."

Poll Pitches a Whiz of Baseball Game.

Hen Berry Scans Proceedings with Calmness.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

The wind abated somewhat, but the Tigers didn't. Wind or no wind, they kept right on beating the Seals as on the day before, and hope to keep it up today, providence remon finally putting over a delayed vin with some unexpected hitting in he eighth, after having been stood in their celebrated heads by the emi-ient Poll Perritt for the better part of he afternoon. The full-grown score was 4 to 1.

RAH FOR POLL.

Our old friend Poll, disguised in a San Francisco uniform and much speed, was hardly recognizable. In addition to these things, he seemed to be somewhat heavier, having put on at a conservative estimate at least two ounces. When he gets his hair cut, however, he will lose some of this extra weight.

Perritt really pitched a whiz of a game. For five rounds he kept the Vernonites rambling back from the plate, and drew a hand even from the hostile audience by fanning Ray Bates with his "squib" ball in the fourth. That is considered some achievement in these parts, and the fans, though rabid, are quick to recognize true worth even in a guy who is pitching for the common enemy. Poll didn't allow the home boys any astisfaction or base hits for five innings. Murmurs of a possible no-hit game were running through the audience in the sixth, when with two out, Pete Daley punctured the silence by crashing a single past first. Pete was flagged stealing.

ARMSTRONG LEADS 'EM ALL FOR SOUTHERN GOLF TITLE.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

E. S. ARMSTRONG, holder of the title, won the qualifying round for the Southern California golf championship at the Los Angeles Country Club yesterday with 149 for the thirty-six holes. Jack Neville of San Francisco was second with 151, and Harold B. Lamb of Midwick third Laurence Cowing, who ranked fourth, with 154, had the best eighteen holes in the morning, 75. But Armstrong brought in a 73 in the afternoon and Neville a 74. HE SLIPPED.

Robin Hayne of San Francisco tarted out stylishly with a 76, which transformed into a 91 for the second round.

And it was not Robin who had the 13 on the sixth hole. That distinction went to Artie Shafer in the afternoon round, positively the worst hole in any tournament. Yet he brought in an 87, which merely shows that even the artistic temperament can rise above its tribulation. Almost any player might be excused if he were depressed beyond recovery at such a calamity. He started out with 49 for the first nine in the morning, but came in triumphantly with a 37. And that ghastly 13 was included in a mere 40 for that first nine in the afternoon, which should obviously have been a sumptuous 33.

Once a ball player of note, now a golf "nut." Yesterday Artie, who has rises to the higher golf ranks with surprising rapidity, brought in what is technically known as the "worst hole" ever played in any tournament when he took thirteen strokes at the sixth hole in the afternoon.

Saturday will be the big day, of course. In the afternoon Bundy and McLoughlin, ex-national champions in gubbes, will play an exhibition match gainst the strongest team which can be procured, while at the same time most of the finals will be played. With such stars as McLoughlin, Bundy, the Sutton sisters and Miss Mary Brown intered, it is predicted that the present tournament will prove to be the entered, it is predicted that the present tournament will prove to be the most successful in the history of the Ofai Valley Tennis Club, and it is confidently predicted that several dark horses will appear to make it more than interesting for the old-timers. Saturday night may find new champions in several events, and the fifty or more cups offered for the tournament may be in the hands of new-comers before the tournament is finally finished.

PALO ALTO, April 12.—As has been their habit for the past twenty years, northern track dopesters predict that years, northern track dopesters predict that the big meet between California and the Cardinals on the Stanford oval Saturday will be decided by the relay.

The Stanfordites are not confident, not in the least, but here are the figures on the relay: Stanford men: Lynn, 50 2-5a.; Hertel of Pasadena, 50 2-5a.; Beal of Los Angeles, 51a; Dievendorff of San Diego, 51s. Californians: Straub, 51a; Woodruff, 51a; Gibbons, 51 2-5a; Kack-

This gives Stanford a two-seconds' lead on paper.

As for the rest of the meet, it has been gleaned from absolutely authentic sources, although the prophets refuse to divulge their identity that the results will be as follows:

Totals 63 It must be admitted, however, that there are many variable fa ors which are likely to modify the above forecast. For example, Davis and Grant may prove dark horses in the 100-yard dash for Stanford. Again, there is strong possibility that Preble may be either first or third in the high hurdles, as Norton and Murray have been running in preliminary meets this season than Preble. The quarter promise the best competition of the day, with Beal and Hertel of Stanford and Ryan of California all likely to change the prediction.

The reason the club is putting on this special carnival is so that its fighters can get toughened up by several hot contests with a number of equally good outside boys.

They have boxed among themselves so much that they are on to each other's tricks. The fear is that an outsider with different tricks may be wilder them. The club wants the strange tricks and the first stage fright to happen down here in this city and not in Seattle.

Also there is some doubt as to the number who are to go North. Several of the club fighters are on the ragged edge. A showing against the opponents of Friday night will tell the tale whether some of the scrappers are to make the trip or not.

"The league is not figuring Portland one way or another. If Los Angeles comes through, the league will not worry about the turnout in Portland."

Three absent members of last season's Seals are now to be found in the big leagues—Corhan with the St. Louis Cardinals, Schmidt with Plitzburgh and Heilman with Detroit. Corhan has created almost as much of a furore in St. Louis as Zeb in Chicago and as Bancroft did in Philadelphia last year. Corhan and Zeb are about equal in ground-covering ability, but Zeb gets the ball away quicker and is less erratic. Personally, we are inclined to give Zeb quits an edge.

Wolverton is not worrying a little bit about his catching staff. Both Sepulveda and Block have been backstopping in great form. There was only one stolen base registered against Sepulveda last week, and that was because the third baseman wasn't covering when Gus Fisher lit out for that bag. Wolverton also feels convinced that he has another high-class catcher in the youngster, O'Brien. He also is stuck on Sheehan and Gay, who got into the game yesterday at TROUTING LAWS ARE NO JOKE THIS YEAR.

Berry and Wolverton are both lavish in their praise of Guisto, McCredie's latest find. They even say that he looks better than Heliman last season, and that is going some. Guisto does not take a wide swing at the ball, but seems to get the power into his blows with his wrists. Berry says that the home run which he made in Oakland Sunday morning would have cleared the left field fence at Washington Park.

Budweiser and Other Foods

There's food value in beer—as well as beverage enjoyment. A bottle of Budweiser may not be offered as a complete me but it has its place in the meal comparable to bread, milk or any other of the dishes or drinks that are part of the well-balanced lunch or dinner.

The alcohol in beer (a small percentage) has its tonic value and its use as an appetizer. The hops have a nerve-soothing value. The malt not only has food value, but is, of all foods, one of the most quickly and easily turned by digestion into nourishment. By its very nature beer is especially thirst-satisfying.

Here are Two Little Charts

He looked bad in both games Sunday, but that was mainly because he had been warming the bench and had to get acquainted with the position all over again. In the beautiful club tank tonight. Prof. V. Vieth has handicapped his swimmers with a special idea of making the races as close as possible. On paper every race should be a draw.

The handicaps have put new life and vigor in the swimming at the club. There are so many entries in the 100-yard swim that the event will have to be run off in three heats. There will not be a final in this event, the time of the handicaps deciding the winners.

J. Fitzgerald was about the only person in the place who didn't get chilly. That was because he was running so rapidly so much of the time. Fits stole every base in the place with the exception of first, although the box score credits him with only two. In the sixth he singled and stole second, taking third on an out. With Arellanes engaged in deep though, Fitz made a clean steal at the plate. However, he was sent back when Schaller lined the ball into left for a foul. Fitz was coming into the plate when Biff swung and the only wonder is that somebody's brains were not scattered all over the place. We shudder to thing what would have happened had Schaller swung his bat a foot lower. Biff then fanned, leaving Fitz stranded.

THE REASON. masked marvel yesterday. The name of the boxer, who is said to be able to whip his weight in wild cats, will re-main a mystery and the first person to discover the identity of the mys-terious one will receive a handsome cash reward. The masked marvel will make his appearance in Friday noon's boxing bouts, coming up against Bob McConaghy. The biggest mystery confronting the Hillitop fans is where the reward will come from. Featherstone declares the discoverer will get $1 while Coach Goddard swears the prize is a bright Lincoln penny.

THE REASON. THE REASON.

Fitz stole two in the seventh, but only one can be put in the record. Two had been retired, one on a brilliant catch of a line drive by Rader. Don then went to the other extreme and juggled Fitzgerald's grounder. Fitz made a delayed steal of second. With Autrey at bat he lit out for third and had that base clearly stolen. Chick, however, connected for a single on the hit and run just before Fitz reached third. This whack sent him along home with San Francisco's only tally. Schaller followed with another single and Arellanes retired Bodie on an easy grounder. SANTA MONICA, April 11.—

BANNING RANCHER THER SAVED SUED BY MEXICAN. BY BRAVE SON.

RIVERSIDE, April 12.—B. B. De Crevecosur of Banning, well-known because of official positions he has held with the county and Fejeral government, was made defendant today in a suit filed by Nicanot Losano. The complainant alleges that De Crevecosur, meeting him on the public highway, abused him and injured him to the extent of breaking three of his ribs. The sum of $500 is asked.

The defendant has a ranch north of Banning, near the mouth of Water Canyon. About 1500 feet of fence along the boundary line was washed away, and it is alleged that the Mexican, with another man was ordered from the ranch when they were discovered picking up drift wood.

COMMISSIONER ARRESTED.

[LOCAL CORNESPONDENCE]

VENTURA, April 12.—The speed cops of this county on Sunday "pinched" State Highway Commissioner Darlington, who was making thirty-six miles an hour on the State Highway near Camarillo, inspecting the roads and investigating the tree ornamentation which the County Forester has been engaged in along the State Highway. Darlington, it is stated, promised that if immunity was given he would see to it that the State Highway was immediately finished through this county, where a gap of eleven miles remains to be completed. But the cops were not to be moved and the commissioner will have to appear before Justice Knox of this city and settle up.

loving faces gathered about them seemed to mean much more to them than the significance of the occasion. "Of course we have arrived at good old ages," said Mrs. Bartlett. "We are both 90. But, then, here in Pasadena there are many people who are very old and I dare say a great many older than we are."

Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett were married in 1851, in the town of Collins, Erie county, New York. Their wedding was half of a double one. Mr. Bartlett later became a banker in New York State and subsequently the couple removed to Colorado Springs, where they lived for a while before coming to Pasadena in 1890.

Among those who were present at the celebration were L. A. Bartlett, their son, and his wife and two children, Mr. and Mrs. H. K. J. Hale, the latter being a daughter of the aged couple; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Bartlett, Mrs. Helen Dye and Miss Ada Rosebough. I. A. Bartlett read some verges which were appropriate to the occasion and the old couple told of their wedding trip, which was a twenty-nine-mile drive to a farm where they lived for many years.

tried by Judge Wood and decided yesterday.

It was part of the evidence of Mr. Badger that his sister-in-law had disliked him from the time of his marriage. It was then that Mrs. Badger produced the letter, which was addressed "Dear Dot," and read in part: "Oh, Dot, I want to see you terribly bad. I am very sorry that you are unhappy in your work. I knocked thunder out of a kid at achool—shut off this air until I thought he was done for—threw him on the floor and sat on him and then pounded him after school. Oh, it's great to be a cop or a teacher. The boy was a little off mentally. Lovingly, JOHN."

Judge Wood asked Mr. Badger if he is teaching in this city now, or expected to, and receiving a negative response, he said:

"If you were I would think it my duty to send this letter to the Board of Education."

SLANDER SUIT. Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Nave owned a house which they desired to rent. But they could not rent it because, as they allege in a slander suit filed yesterday, Mrs. David Graham would say to prospects looking at the premises: "That house is full of bedbugs." It is alleged that she advised various persons not to take the house on account of the bedbugs. Among others, the complaint names William Medway. William Crop, Mrs. Nellie Hoffman and F. R. Beck, as having been spoken to. For loss of rent the Naves sak $175, and as exemplary damages $1000.

MANDAMUS SUIT. Alleging that she had applied for a permit as a masseum at No. 738 South Hill street and the permit and a license had been refused her by the Board of Police Commissioners, Effic C. Abrams asked for a writ of mandate yesterday to compel the board to grant the license, so she may continue in business.

ment was made by Attorney Coghlan that Jacob Margolis, notorious in the East as a defender of socialists and others of anarchistic leanins. had withdrawn from the case. The only rexplanation given for the sudden departure of Margolis for his home in Pittsburgh was that his policy for the defense of Caplan was not in harmony with that adopted by Mr. Coghlan.
